This year's event will be held on Friday, April 4, 2008, 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m., at Vinewood School. Vinewood School students will be planting trees at the school, participating in a poster contest, and enjoying other associated activities.

This year's celebration is being organized by the Public Works Department and jointly-funded by the Electric Utility, Community Development, and Parks and Recreation Departments; the Streets and Drainage Division; Waste Management: Wal-Mart; Lodi Unified School District; and West Coast Arborists, along with help from Tree Lodi.

Arbor Day's Beginnings

On January 4, 1872, Julius Sterling Morton first proposed a tree-planting holiday, to be called "Arbor Day", at a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture. The date was set for April 10, 1872. It was estimated that more than one million trees were planted in Nebraska on the first Arbor Day.

Arbor Day was officially proclaimed by Governor Robert W. Furnas on March 12, 1874, and the day itself was observed April 10, 1874. In 1885, Arbor Day was named a legal holiday in Nebraska, and April 22nd, Morton's birthday, was selected as the date for its permanent observance. During the 1870s, other states passed legislation to observe Arbor Day and the tradition began in schools nationwide in 1882. Arbor Day has now spread beyond the United States and is observed in many countries of the world.

Lodi has been designated as a Tree City USA for a sixth consecutive year. This designation affords us preference over other communities for grant money for trees or forestry programs and gives us an enhanced public image as a city that cares about its trees.

In the City of Lodi, trees are very important. The celebration of Arbor Day gives an opportunity to learn about trees and take positive action to make the world a better place.
